

COWPER & NEWTON MUSEUM

The Dartmouth family owned land and buildings in the Olney area for many years. The 'Dartmouth Survey', dated 1796, includes information about the value of land and property owned by William Legge, 2nd Earl of Dartmouth.

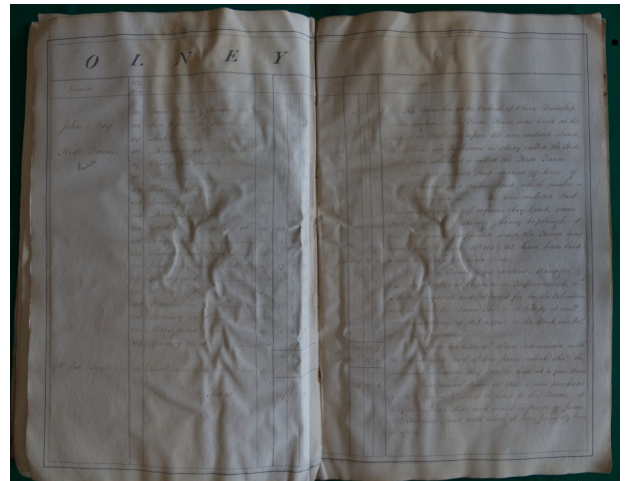

The document is in very poor condition, having suffered extensive water damage.

However, digital images are now available to purchase for commercial and non-commercial use. For more information email:

A transcription of the information is also available.

All profits are used to conserve and digitally photograph more documents.

There is more information about the Earl of Dartmouth and Olney in this blog article on the Museum website

Only a few documents within the Museum cannot be handled due to their fragile condition. If you are interested in carrying out your own research, contact the Museum to arrange a time to visit.
